Brand Project Information & Form

The Friends of Raymer have a project where you may showcase your livestock brand. You will provide information on the history of the brand. Many have been used by a family for as long as brands have been recorded in Colorado since 1865.

The purpose of the program is to have a permanent display in the Mercantile Building in New Raymer, Colorado, of livestock brands that were used and are being used as our community has developed. All livestock brands are welcomed.

We will ask for the history of your brand, or if you have the history of another brand, to capture that history and have it displayed and recorded. There may have been “a mark,” as they were called, that was never a recorded brand but part of our history that should be preserved.

We will charge a nominal fee of $50. Funds go to the Friends of Raymer to support our building renovation projects.
